

MEET OKLAHOMA.

His name is Steve Smith. Married, five kids. Huge Dallas Cowboys fan. Reserve Police Officer in Salina. Certified First Responder for the Volunteer Fire Department in Strang. His background helped to get a job as a Dispatcher with a regional emergency services organization in 2002. Earned two EMT certifications and recently graduated as a Paramedic. Now, he's Shift Supervisor for all operations. Made over 2,000 runs during his career ranging from bee stings and nursing home transfers to full cardiac arrests and life-saving CPR on a three-month old child.

Steve is just one part of Oklahoma's most treasured resource: our people. Those men and women that make our state great. Individuals that exemplify our native strengths of tenacity, integrity, and ingenuity.

Like other economic development organizations in Oklahoma, we are tasked with recruiting new industries to our state. It's a complex and difficult job trying to convince a business to locate their operations here. But, it becomes a whole lot easier when they meet someone like Steve.
